'All My Sons' by Arthur Miller, directed by Ivo Van Hove, design by Jan Versweyveld.

Bryan Cranston (Breaking Bad) and Marianne Jean-Baptiste (Hard Truths) feature in a five-star, triumphantly acclaimed new production of Arthur Miller's classic play, from visionary director Ivo Van Hove (A View from the Bridge). One family, the heart of the American dream. When wartime delivers profits for Joe, it comes at a price when his partner is charged with criminal manufacturing deals, and his eldest son goes missing in action. Will peacetime bring peace of mind, or will he be confronted by the consequence of his actions? Filmed live from the West End, Paapa Essiedu (I May Destroy You), Tom Glynn-Carney (House of the Dragon), and Hayley Squires (I, Daniel Blake) also feature in this disturbingly prescient play.

Cost: Free
Contact: 02 6333 6555 I brag@bthurst.nsw.gov.au
Website: https://bathurstart.com.au/

For the first time, Bathurst Regional Art Gallery, Cowra Regional Art Gallery, and Orange Regional Gallery are sharing the richness of their collections to create three unique exhibitions, each with a different thematic approach: Grounding, Retrospection, and Affinities.

Presenting familiar and unfamiliar works in new contexts, each exhibition sparks fresh conversations, fosters community pride within the Central West, and strengthens cultural tourism across the three destinations. Grounding: Stories from Three Collections at Bathurst Regional Art Gallery explores the ways in which artists respond to place and the ways in which regional collections reflect the histories and identities of place. Grounding looks at regional, national, and international artists across medium and time who consider the physical, emotional, and cultural significance of place. Importantly, the concept of 'grounding' is deeply embedded in Wiradyuri and First Nations culture through connection to Country. The desire to create is central to the human experience with some art objects in Australia dating back at least 65,000 years. The act of making marks, images and symbols, builds visual languages which can transcend the spoken word. Artists use elements such as line, colour, shape, and composition as the words in these languages which form collectively and individually. Wiradyuri Country and its three rivers (Wambuul, Galari, and Marrambidya), rolling hills and expansive skies have inspired and influenced artists for generations. Across the exhibition we see this tradition expand to other iconic attributes of the Australian landscape, its red earth and nostalgic manmade fixtures. And then we contract, to the intimate spaces, the personal memories and experiences of artists which can be strangely inclusive and familiar. And we reveal the artists who have chosen to live in this place, bringing with them marks, images and symbols from home – contributing a new visual language, and so the palette deepens, is more vibrant and is richer than before. Permanent collections play a unique role in capturing the stories of a place with each acquisition a fragment of a continuum. Grounding is an exploration and celebration of 164 years of cumulative stories from the Central West. Artists featured include GW Bot, Liam Benson, Grace Cossington Smith, Aunty Lorraine Connelly Northey, Elisabeth Cummings, Olive Cotton, Max Dupain, Rachel Ellis, Danie Mellor, Luke Sciberras, Merrick Fry and Lloyd Rees.

Bathurst Regional Art Gallery presents The Long Way by Sarah Randall in the BRAG Foyer Gallery. My work explores the intersections between humanity and the natural world, capturing places of human interference: cleared land, introduced vegetation and built infrastructure. Despite our efforts to shape and control the environment, nature maintains a quiet, persistent resistance. Living on Wiradyuri/Wiradjuri Country in Central West NSW, this series draws directly from the familiar landscapes of Orange, Macquarie Woods, Bathurst, Portland, Lewis Ponds, Reid's Flat and Browns Creek, portraying distinctive rural forms unique to our region. Sarah Randall, based in Orange, NSW, holds a Bachelor of Creative Arts from the University of Wollongong (2013), a Master of Fine Art (Coursework) from RMIT (2015), and a Graduate Certificate in Art History from the University of Melbourne. She has enriched her artistic journey through local and international residencies. Sarah's paintings are held in both public and private collections across Australia and internationally.

The Travelling Wilburys are a unique and important chapter in the evolution of classic pop. Formed in the mid 80's and flying in the face of the fashion of the synth driven pop of the time, it embraced the talents of these important artist whose careers dated back to the 50's to create a body of work that resonated with the public and some would say helped change the direction of pop to a more organic style leading into the 90's, and beyond. The show brings together a top-level lineup of versatile singers and multi-instrumentalists to represent the significant body of work represented by The Wilburys, together and alone.
